Does it?

Paris seems to make room for them.
I dont even care whos watching.

METRO

So they sit, and let the music find them.

The song fills the silence between heartbeats.
I can feel this in my chest.
Me too. Like everything is is glowing from the inside.

And for one impossible, perfect moment, they wish it could last forever.
I dont want this night to end.
Then lets remember it like it never will.

Paris the city of LOVE

Still wrapped in the tenderness that began beneath the Eiffel Tower, iii and rrr let their feelings spill into the streets of Paris. They dance and kiss beneath café lights, carried by the thrill of being fully alive together. Drawn by the sound of an accordion, they stop at a small plaza and sit listening in shared silence. As the music settles into them, both feel the heat of love in their chest and silently wish the night could last forever.
