My Graduation: what a journey!
I made it.

HOSPITAL

Not long ago, I had no idea what to do after high school.
Everyone keeps asking about my future... but I don't know yet.

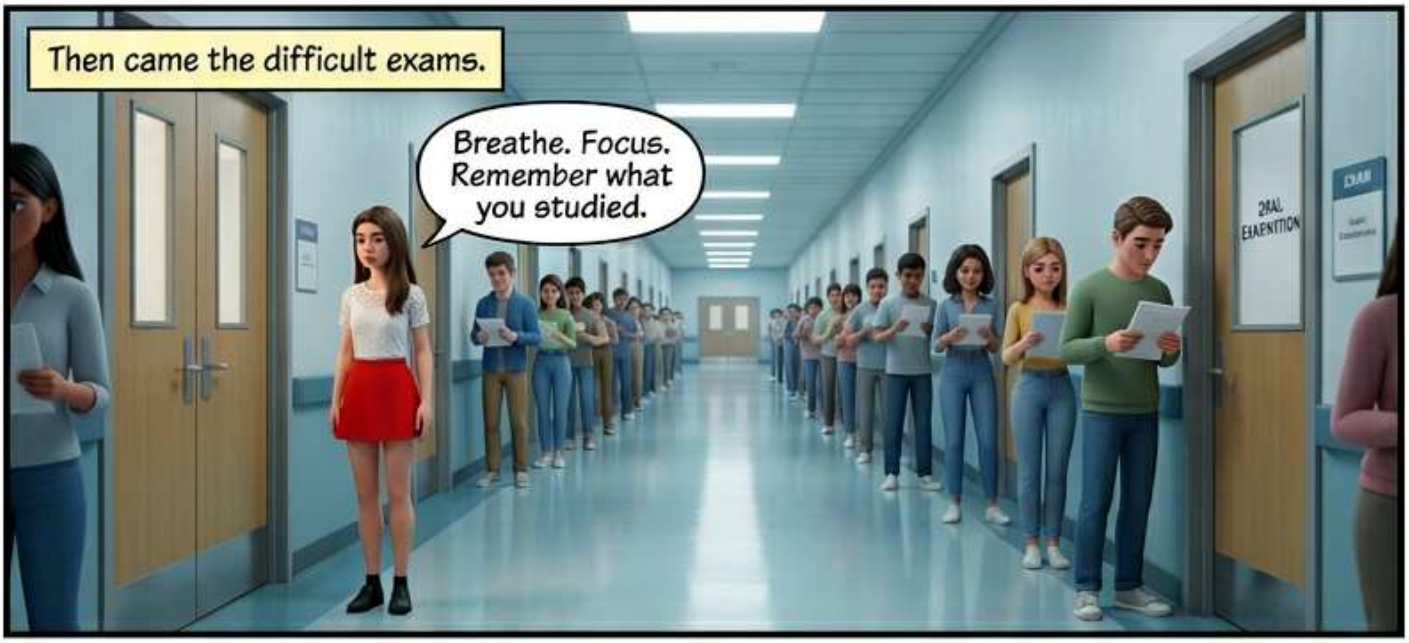

Then one possibility started to stand out.

Medicine... Medicine... challenging, serious, meaningful. Maybe this is my path.

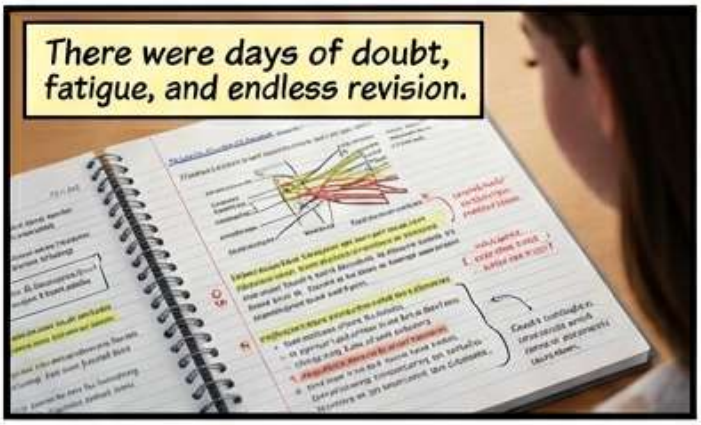

I chose the medical university course and stepped into a completely new world.
Okay... this is really happening.

ORIENTATION WEEK

The first lessons were exciting... and intimidating.
There is so much to learn.

So I built a routine: lectures, notes, review, repeat.

One chapter at a time.
One chapter at a time.

I understood quickly that motivation wasn't enough. I needed consistency.
This is hard... but I can do hard things.

Then came the difficult exams.
Breathe. Focus. Remember what you studied.
ORAL EXAMINATION
EXAM

There were days of doubt, fatigue, and endless revision.

I faced every question the best I could.
If I stop now, all this effort means nothing.

I faced every question the beet I could.
The brachial plexus branches from...

And one by one, I passed.
Yes... I did it!

Every exam made me stronger and more certain I belonged here.

After the classroom came real hospital training.
HOSPITAL
This is where everything becomes real.

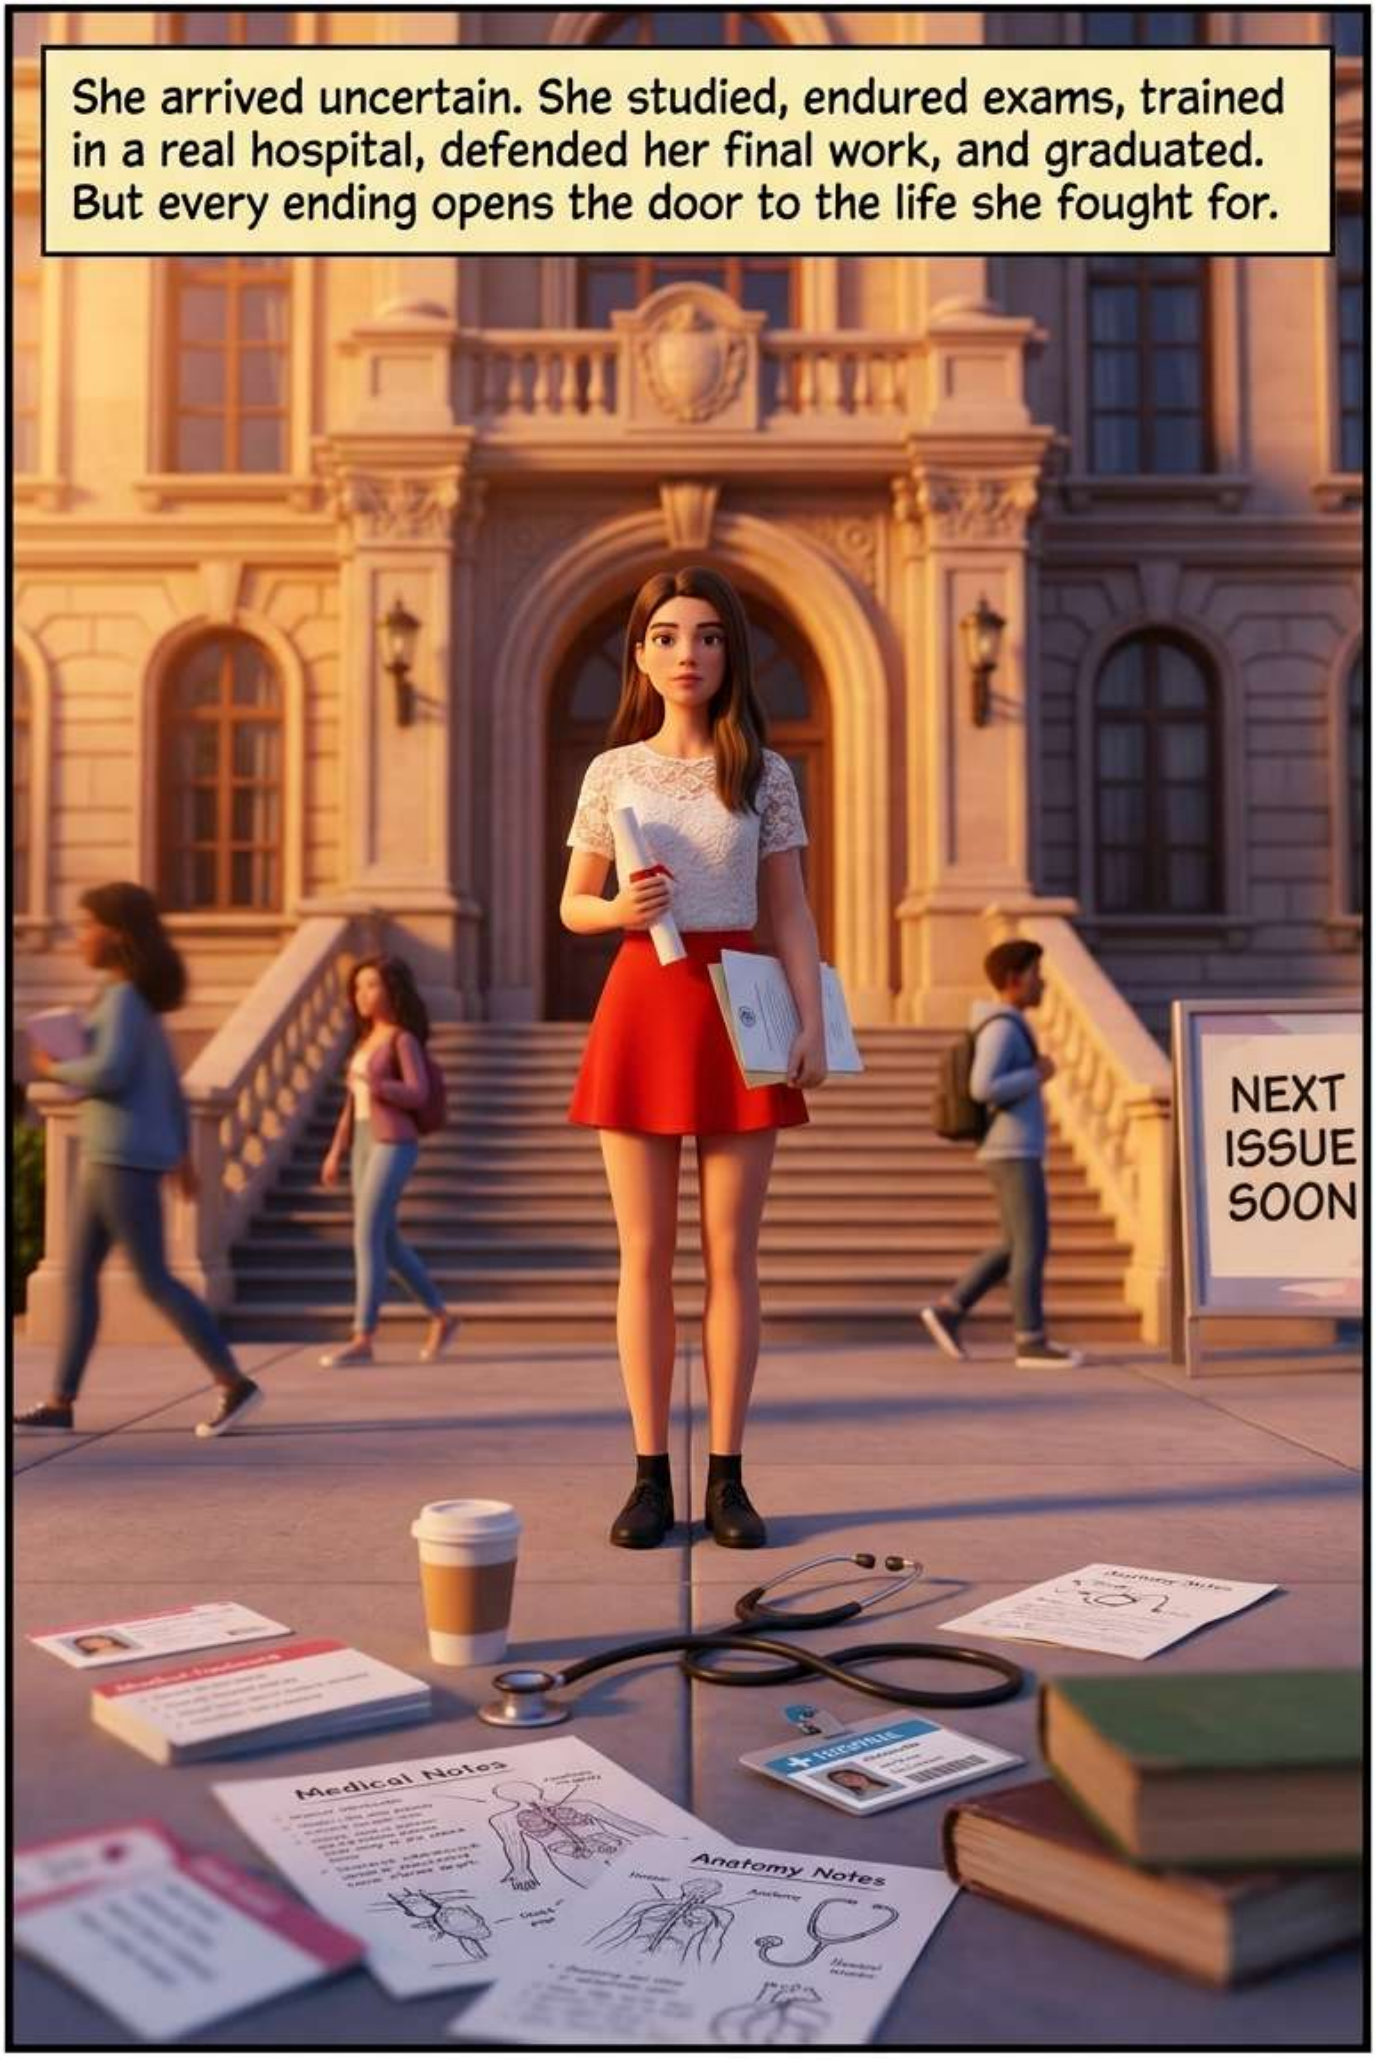

I had to learn fast, stay precise, and pay attention to every detail.
Check the chart, listen carefully, don't rush.

It wasn't only about science. It was also about responsibility and care.
I'm here to learn how to help people properly.

The days were long, but I knew I was growing.
I'm tired... but this is exactly why I chose this path.

Years of effort led me to the final stretch.
Just a little more. Stay focused.

One last challenge stood between me and graduation.
